CURRENT COMMENTS

MR. BORDEN WILL NOT HOLD BACK

The Dominion government has made it plain that it will, if necessary, amend the rules of the house to enable the business of the house to go on in a reasonable manner. Such a step had to be taken and whether the opposition capitulates or not, it would be just as well to have the alteration made so that such an intolerable situation as that of the past few weeks could not occur again.

The Mother Country and the United States have both come to it. In these countries it was found that protection was required against those who were prepared to abuse the privileges of their position, and we have had enough experience with men of this type in Canada to justify the measures necessary to deal with them.

The closure was introduced by the greatest Liberal of modern times, Mr. Gladstone, in 1882.
Yet Canadian Liberals talk of it as a weapon against constitutional liberty. There is no desire to interfere with liberty. It is license that the Borden government proposes to protect the country against.

In the American Congress the safeguard against obstruction is "the previous question."

"The great remedy" says Mr.
Bryce in his American Commonwealth, "against prolix or obstructive debate is the so-called previous question, which is moved in this form, 'Shall the main question now be put?' and when ordered, forthwith closes all debate and brings the house to a direct vote on the main question."

Mr. Borden with these precedents, and with all the provocation that has been given him, need have no hesitation in proceeding with measures which will allow the country's affairs to be taken up in a sensible, business-like manner.

NAVAL POLICIES

The desire to build battleships in Canada is quite a new development in the Canadian Liberal party mind. In the years between 1896 and 1911 whatever the leaders, who were then the ministers, thought, was easily translated into action. The records show that in connection with shipbuilding they gave little heed to Canadian yards. Here is a list of ships got for the Department of Marine in the years in question and the places where they were built:

Minto, at Dundee, 1899.
Arcic, at Kiel, Germany, 1901.
Druid, at Paisley, in 1902.
Lady Laurier, at Paisley, 1902.
Champlain, at Paisley, in 1904.
Montcalm, at York, in 1904.
Earl Gray, at Harrow, in 1909.
Simcoe, at Wallsend, in 1909.
Some of these were quite small vessels, which Canadians could have built. If Canadians had been given the chance they might have gained some experience that would have qualified them for the more ambitious undertakings the Liberals now say they favor.—

SUICIDE IN STAVELEY

Mr. E. J. Tindall Takes His Own Life while in a State of Extreme Dependancy—Is Found Under the Loading Platform with His Throat Cut.

During the past week or two Staveley has been brought very much in the public time-light on account of the destructive and fatal railway wreck a week ago last Sunday morning, and then again by the suicide of Track-foreman E. J. Tindall on Saturday afternoon last, and thirdly the hold-up of the noon south-bound passenger train on Monday, when near the scene of the late railway smash-up, by a broken drive rod, which caused a delay of some three or four hours.

THE SUICIDE

It is our sad duty this week to record the death of Mr. E. J. Tindall, by self-destruction by the cutting of his throat with a razor.
The sad and unlooked-for event caused quite a sensation when the news was spread around town of the awful deed. The deceased was one of the most highly respected men in this neighborhood, and his death by self-destruction was very regretted by all. The deceased had become greatly depressed on account of financial loss caused by some three successive crop failures on his farm, which he had previously purchased, in addition to holding his position as section foreman. In the end he lost his farm, besides incurring heavy debts for farm machinery, the payment for which he was being hardily pressed.

Being of a quiet and retiring nature he seemed to have brooded over his financial obligations, but when last speaking of these conditions he seemed hopeful of being able to clear up everything in the next two or three years, if given time.

An inquest was held on Saturday evening, and permission given for burial by a jury composed of J. W. Wilford, foreman, F. R.
Randall, W. Neville, D. Harper, H. Lezard and W. McGee, sworn in for that purpose, the inquest being adjourned until Tuesday morning before Coroner Dr. H.
G. Nyhielt of Macleod.

On Tuesday morning, after hearing the evidence, the coroner gave the jury men instructions how to arrive at their verdict. When, where and how, were the questions to be considered. If they thought the deceased was temporarily insane at the time, to say so. From the evidence it would appear that deceased was rational when he asked to have money sent to his wife. If they thought he came to his death by cutting his throat with the razor, inflicted by his own hand, to say so. The jury were then left to themselves. After some ten or fifteen minutes the jury returned the verdict that deceased came to his death by committing suicide by cutting his throat.

Anno unment has been made of several changes in Alberta judgeships. Two judges removed and two new appointments are made. Judge Crawford of Macleod goes to Edmonton as judge of the district court, and is succeeded at Macleod by Edward T. McNeil of Macleod.
Judge Winter of Lethbridge is moved to Calgary as junior judge of that district. John A. Jackson of Ponoka is appointed judge at Lethbridge.

Jenny's New Teacher is a "Brick"

Her application has been accepted. The goal she has striven for so long is in sight. She is to begin her career when the severe weather is over and spring opens up the little red school house.
Her mind is packed, saturated, with lesson plans, and all the latest data on discipline and school hygiene. But, does she know the heart of the child?

Recently a small boy came home after his first day with his new teacher. His previous experience had been trying, for he was a headstrong little chap, full of life and fun and mischief. One teacher had pronounced him incorrigible, another vicious, still a third said that he was dull.

But the new teacher—"Oh, she's a brick, mummy," he shouted as he burst into the house. "I had my pocket full of marbles. I really didn't know they were there —honest—till one dropped on the floor. It rolled and rolled down the aisle till it stopped at Miss A's desk. She picked it up, my very best marble, and I knew just what she'd do. She'd throw it in the waste paper basket, like all the rest."

"But mummy, she didn't, though! She just turned it round in her hand as though she liked it. 'Why, it's a real eagle, Johnny, isn't it? Don't lose it, my boy, it's a beauty,' and then she walked 'way down and gave it back to me."

Well, you better believe I got busy at my spelling. She's all right, Miss A. is."

The successful teacher is the one who carries to the little red schoolhouse not many rules and methods, but the ability to put herself on a plane with the child, then she will be able to meet their interests, and to fit in the little gold key of kindness and sympathy that unlocks the child heart.

Easter Sunday, with the ground covered with snow, but bright sunshine, is something new to Southern Alberta. It is the first time ever seen by old timers, and the first time Easter has come so early in the year. Old settlers look for a year of plenty, big crops of good grain, with prices to match, and the bank has by this time next year will be dictated to by the grain growers, and they will have to take the same medicine they are now dealing out to farmers and others.

The service of song, held in the Methodist church last Friday evening, was a decided success. There was a large gathering present and all enjoyed the entertainment.

Now is the time to see about that new spring harness. Don't leave it to the very last minute, and then be disappointed. Leave your order at once with J. W. Bradley.

Next Sunday at the Methodist church "David Livingstone" will be the subject dealt with by the Rev. O. E. Mann. The female quartette will render a selection at this service.

The Albertan states that Mr. L. M. Roberts, member for High River constituency, will be a candidate for the new constituency to be known as the Bow Valley constituency.

On account of both teachers being in attendance at the teachers' convention at Edmonton, the scholars of the public school are enjoying a week of Easter holidays. School opens again on Monday.

The Liberals of Macleod have invited Premier Sifton to be their candidate at the next provincial election. He has accepted and will be nominated at the convention to be held on Thursday at 2:30 p.m.

If each resident in our community would take interest enough in our local paper to send all items of general news direct to the publisher, we would have the brightest, breeziest paper published in the province.

A meeting of the ratepayers was held on Wednesday evening, the 19th, for the purpose of nominating a councillor in place of Campbell Douglas, who is moving to Nanton. Two nominations were made, that of Geo. Wickens and Hallett. Either is worthy of the high position.

After reporting the advent of the green shubarb pie and the very first robin, we dislike having to say anything about the snow. But murder will out. A few inches of the beautiful has fallen here during the past week. However, the farmers are happy, for this fall of snow at this particular time means more moisture.

Good congregations took part in the Easter services at both the Presbyterian and Methodist churches on Sunday last. Special singing was furnished by the choirs.

The weather man has not had much regard for the coal bins this season, as he has kept up a steady spell for such a long time, but the old chap seems now inclined to be more generous.

The High River Natural Gas Co. is shipping two rigs to the company's gas areas. One rig will go to Aldersyde and the other to High River. Work on the boring will start at once.

Mr. Joe Cavill, who has been spending the winter at his old home in Ontario, has returned to the west and was a Cayley visitor on Sunday. Joe has accepted a position in a store in Vulcan.

The Conservatives of Macleod held their annual convention at Macleod Saturday. Robert Paterson was nominated over D. J. Grier by a vote of 30 to 15. Colin Macleod withdrew as a candidate when his name was mentioned to the convention.

The storm which developed over the middle west States on Thursday and Friday struck western Ontario, with terrific force, inflicting thousands of dollars damage. The tail end of these storms have also been felt in this part of Alberta.

The decision of Mr. Justice Simmons in awarding Harold Riley, M.P.P., $300 damage, with full costs, against the Edmonton Capital, was sustained at a sitting of the supreme court en banc at Edmonton yesterday. The case was a libel action.

The social event of the season was held in the Solar Plexis club rooms last Thursday evening, when about forty of the young people (everybody was young that night) enjoyed themselves in the fullest sense of the word. The Solar Plexis band was in attendance and was a great assistance in furnishing enjoyment for the evening. After refreshments were freely partaken of the happy gathering broke up in the wee sma' ours o' the morn.

One sample tested by competent analysis at the assaying laboratory of the University of Alberta prove that the mineral wealth of the province has as yet only been vaguely surmised. Some of the ore runs high in gold, silver and copper, while other places show iron and lead. Prospectors, who have tramped over the foothills of the Canadian Rockies, predict that the next big "rush" on the north American continent will be into north-west and south-western Alberta.

Cayley Boy Scout News

The idea is still prevalent that the Cayley Scouts will be taught the art of war. They will not be made into soldiers, but good citizens. The interest of every parent should be in this.

There are already sufficient boys to form two patrols of six or seven in each. It is of the utmost importance that the energies of these boys should be guided into the proper channels.

Honest manhood, efficient citizenship and christian ideals are the objects aimed at.

Boy's Sister His Niece

At Columbus, Ohio, Harry Thornton Grady, 19, obtained a license to marry Freda Kredel, 16. It developed in recording the circumstances that Miss Kredel, the bride, is the sister of the step-mother of the bridegroom. From this statement of facts Edward F. Morris, marriage license clerk, discovered that inasmuch as Grady had married his mother's sister, his mother would be his sister-in-law and his father his brother-in-law; that he would be his brother's uncle and his sister would be his niece.

King George of Greece was not considered a likely mark for the assassin, and his taking off in the moment of national victory is a strange event. His fate has apparently no significance except that it shows once more to what dangers all men in positions of prominence are exposed at the hands of weak-minded people. His close relationship to the British royal family makes the tragedy all the more regrettable to us. That it will affect the situation in the Balkans is unlikely, though, of course, it must add somewhat to the general uncertainty.
